

The Wind beneath your Wings is one of 25 panoramic routes along the Danish coastline. Panorama Routes are premium cycle routes offering places to eat, accommodation and entertaining experiences. The routes provide spectacular views, but also secret hideaways with space for quiet contemplation. The Panorama routes are part of the Powered by Cycling: Panorama project supported by the European Regional Development Fund.

Wind beneath your wings, 26 km

The wind under your wings, the smell of the sea, the good life and happy days. Add to this the irresistible charm of Sønderho and Nordby to experience how life should be lived on this charming cycle trip.

Where the route takes you...

The route can be started anywhere. This guide uses the Fanø ferry as its starting point.

On the harbour is a sculpture with two dogs (1). These two faience dogs can be seen with their black noses and slightly sad faces in many, many windows here on Fanø. In the period 1860-1900 the dogs were the souvenir that all Danish seamen were expected to bring home to their wives and girlfriends from voyages to England.

Follow the road next to the old tourist office, Lille Amalienborg, up to Nordby's high street, Hovedgaden (2). The street offers rich opportunity to buy every kind of treat and specialty. At the end of Hovedgaden, follow Strandvejen towards Fanø Bad. After a short while, you will pass one of the prides of the island, Fanø Bryghus (3) (Fanø Brewery) whose brew can be bought and enjoyed in many locations on the island.

An impressive sight awaits you at the end of Strandvejen. One of Europe's widest beaches (4) invites you to play and have fun. The wind plays an important role here. It is used for flying a mass of kites and for driving Kite-Buggies and Blokarts.

Follow the beach for a few kilometres until you reach a red rescue point in beach area A945. Follow this path up to the large Skovlegepladsen (5) (Forest Playground). Find your inner child and make use of the many items of natural playground equipment. Hungry mouths can be fed in a large covered barbecue area.

Cycle back along Landevejen towards Nordby. Just before Kirkevejen you will see a red house. The roadside gable has a large clock which is why the house is nicknamed Rindby Main Station.

Since 1644, Søjorden, a small island, has been visible near Fanø Krogaard (6) at low tide. Many an out-of-town visitor has bought this island over the years, but has been very disappointed to find that the island was no longer there at high tide.

Everten Rebekka is moored at Langelinie (7) – a flat-bottomed ship designed for sailing the Wadden Sea. Rebekka was built on Fanø and was found in a terrible state on Zealand in the early 1990s.

The route is almost complete and a large part of Fanø's attractions will be behind you. Perhaps ready to be relived another day.

Roads: It may be necessary to draw your bike on Klingebjergvej and on the part from the beach to Skovlegepladsen.

Notice that biking in Hovedgaden is not allowed during high season.
